HOW DOES IT WORK?

Big companies provide healthcare for their employees at a fraction of what individuals and small businesses pay for the same healthcare. This has been a well-kept secret for many years, until we decided to make it available to all. Here's how the secret formula works:

ESCROW + TPA + PPO = SAVINGS!

Big corporations who self-insure put money in escrow to pay for medical bills as they actually occur. They use a TPA (Third Party Administrator) as official payor to the provider and they have a preferred wholesale contract with a PPO.

THE FUTURE OF HEALTHCARE... TODAY!

Care Entrée

The following story was excerpted from the South Florida Sun-Sentinel

Mark enrolls in the Care Entrée program and pays $69.95 a month plus a monthly contribution to an escrow account to pay future healthcare expenses.

Michele, Mark's wife, is rushed to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

Surgery and recovery for Michele required a three-day stay in the hospital, with the bill totaling $18,570.

Care Entrée has a contract with Private Health Care

Systems (PHCS), one of the largest PPOs in the country.

As Care Entrée members, this family is entitled to a rate negotiated with the hospital by PHCS.

This family pays $1,700 -- a savings of $16,870 (over 90%!) - for Michele's total hospital bill. "The medical savings program was a financial lifesaver for Mark," reports the Sun Sentinel.

Mark now sells Care Entrée memberships to supplement his income.
